

Tech support

Stata offers free, unlimited, comprehensive, and timely technical support for our current release. No matter what area your research is in, our dedicated staff of expert Stata programmers and statisticians is ready to assist you.

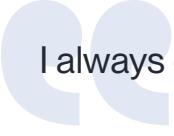

What we can help with

-  Have a question about Stata syntax or output?
-  Need to determine the cause of an error message?
-  Trying to customize your graph to get just the right look?
-  Need help deciding which edition of Stata is right for you?
-  Have a tricky data management or programming challenge?
-  Need a recommendation for a learning resource?

 I am very impressed with StataCorp's customer service from the initial email for assistance to the final resolution of my request. Your support has been the most comprehensive and pleasant experience when dealing with this type of highly technical information.
